$5 MINIMUM PAY URGED FOR COAL MINERS

Demand Made by Union Chief in Long Statement at NRA Hearing.

BASED ON 30-HOUR WEEK

Administration Continues Move To Maintain Harmony in Industry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Aug 10—John L Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, demanded today that the national recovery administration guarantee miners who work underground a $5 a day basic minimum wage for a 30 hour work week

In the NRA's hearing on 27 codes of fair competition, fixing wages and hours for the bituminous coal industry, Lewis, reading a 32-page prepared statement today, how he had met with a group of operators to draft one of the 27. Then he insisted that the code or codes finally approved give miners the right to join any union they choose

Calls for Copartnership

"The (recovery) act," he said, "after giving employes the right to organize unmolested for the purposes of collective bargaining provides as a basis for attaining its objectives a copartnership between employers and employes. It, therefore, inevitably follows * * * that the act assumes that employers will freely recognize and deal with representatives of employees. * * *

"Refusal of employers to do this involves two deplorable conclusions (1) that employers are refusing to abide by the spirit and letter of the law and (2) by this refusal they are not only obstructing the fundamental purposes of the act to accelerate economic recovery, but what is more serious, they are promoting discord and dislocations, for the reason that they leave no alternative to employes but the undesirable one of using their collective strength to force recognition of their organization and its representative.

Lewis read his statement at the hearing on the bituminous coal industry code entered the second day with argument revolving around the use of the open-shop policy

Harmony Sought

Harmony in industry through the settlement of labor disputes was sought earnestly today by the national recovery administration

From apparent success in settling a coal strike discord at Grindstone, Pa President Roosevelt's national labor board turned to two

OHIO MAN DIES IN NAVAL PLANE CRASH

Ship Dives Into Sea at Honolulu, Carrying Five To Deaths.

By The Associated Press

HONOLULU, Aug. 10—Navy salvage equipment grappled in 50 feet of water today for wreckage of the twin-motored navy seaplane which carried five men to their deaths in an offshore crash and which still held the bodies of three in its splintered cabin.

While naval officials planned an investigation, N. A. Tuft, aviation machinist's mate, second class, the only survivor, was recovering from bruises and slight injuries and the shock of plunging into the ocean yesterday with the doomed plane

Those killed were Lieutenants Charles P. Hill, pilot, and Ted C. Marshall, pilot under instruction, and C. C. Stewart, V. C Hovey and L. B. Pitt, enlisted men.

Tuft, whose home is in Sacramento, Calif., attributed the crash to stripping of the plane's tail surfaces, making it unmanageable and causing it to crash, back first, into the sea a mile offshore.

Pitt is survived by his mother Mrs. Lennie May Kern of Athens, O

BEHIND BARS

PAUL MAXIM

Convict Who 'Made Good' Back in Cell

Back in Mansfield, Maxim Affirms Faith in Chicago Girl.

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 10—Again behind prison bars, 25-year-old Paul Maxim, appeared visibly shaken today as he resumed the routine life of the prison he fled six years ago.

Though he expressed the fear "even my friends might forget I am here" he reaffirmed his faith in the girl—"Margaret," he called her—he hope to make his bride.

He once told his story to her, he said, but he had "no idea who tipped police" that he was the "J Paul Faraday" who sat behind a polished desk in the office of a national paint company and directed the firm's advertising.

"My faith in her is unshaken," he said.

Hasn't Seen "Margaret"

It was possible, of course, that "Margaret," a trained nurse, inadvertently might have revealed his true identity as the 19-year-old youth who in 1927 escaped from a reformatory honor camp at Sandusky It was even possible, he added, that the man who also admired "Margaret" might have learned of his past and informed police But he was certain "Margaret" never told his secret intentionally No, he hadn't seen her since his arrest.

He found small comfort in Gov George White's action in requesting the state board of parole to investigate his career with a view to possible pardon Neither, apparently was he consoled by Reformatory Supt J C Jenkins' words "If Paul has reformed, we will do everything possible to expedite consideration of his case"

Feels "Life Crashing"

"I'm not one of those staunch courageous souls nothing can daunt," he said

"When I was alone for the first time in six years behind prison walls and heard that bugle call for lights out I had a feeling of my life crashing down about my ears and that I was standing in the ruins

"And when I realized that here behind these walls are more than 3,000 other men marking time until they can be released, I had a feeling that even my friends might forget I am here"

He told the story of his life since his arrest

He was 19 when he took class pins valued at $100 from a Coitsville O., school He got a sentence of one to 15 years for that. His conduct in prison won him a transfer to the honor camp. He escaped from there

NRA DIRECTOR WARNS AGAINST PROFITEERING

Ohio Recovery Official Declares Prices Must Not Be Raised Too High.

READY TO TAKE ACTION

Promises To Report All Alleged "Gouging" to Authorities at Washington.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug 10 — A warning to members of the NRA not to use "the blue eagle of the national recovery administration as an excuse to profiteer" was issued today by Miss Mary E Woods Ohio recovery director She promised to report all NRA profiteers to Washington for "appropriate action"

Meanwhile, a concerted drive to enlist thousands of consumers in the NRA campaign was started here by the President's emergency reemployment commission It asked the public to patronize only those merchants and manufacturers who display the blue eagle symbol of adherence to the recovery drive. It had 130,000 consumers agreements ready for signing and as many NRA stickers for display by those who sign.

"Some employers have taken the attitude that the NRA gives them an excuse to raise prices unjustifiably," Miss Woods said in a statement.

"Their attention is called to section 9 of the President's re-employment agreement, under which signers of the agreement are pledged 'not to increase the price of any merchandise sold after the date hereof over the price on July 1 1933, by more than is made necessary by actual increases in production, replacement or invoice costs of merchandise, or by taxes or other costs

"This pledge is as binding as any other section of the agreement"

The half million mark was passed in the number of Ohio workers brought under the NRA. Miss Woods said 79,739 Ohio establishments now have signed the agreement and computed their total number of workers at 512,742.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF VOTE DUE TONIGHT

Board To Meet for Recheck of Tuesday's Primary Ballots.

Members of the board of elections will meet tonight to canvass the votes cast in the city primary election Tuesday The official count will be announced Friday

Only two contests are considered close enough to be affected by the official count Only 16 votes separated Tracy A Allen and J L Landes in the former's successful race for the Republican nomination for city auditor. In the Fourth ward councilman race on the Republican ticket, W C Sellanders defeated George H Bechtel by eight votes

The board will check its own figures on the tabulations and decide the disposition of ballots disputed through faulty markings.

HOLD NO HOPE FOR MRS. JOE RIDGEWAY

Death Near for Richwood Woman Shot in Quarrel by Husband.

No hope was held today for the recovery of Mrs. Mina Ridgeway of Richwood who was shot July 10 by her husband, Joe Ridgeway, at the climax of a domestic quarrel

City hospital attaches reported that her condition was critical this morning and her physician said there had been a marked change for the worse in the last 48 hours and that death was imminent.

The pressure of one of the revolver bullets on her spine, has paralyzed her body from the hips down, and her condition has been too critical to risk an operation to remove the bullets.

Ridgeway was bound over to the Union county grand jury under $10,000 bond on July 15, after pleading not guilty to a charge of shooting with intent to kill. His hearing was held three days after he gave himself up to Bellefontaine officers.

CUBAN LEADERS MEET TO ACT ON U. S. MEDIATION PROPOSAL

Blue Eagle Distribution Resumed at Postoffice

Marion List Grows as New Supply of Posters Is Received Here.

With a new supply of blue eagles received at the postoffice, postal officials today are expecting a rush of Marion employers who have complied with President Roosevelt's NRA agreement but who have not received their emblems

For the last week the lack of supplies has hindered the issuance of the blue eagle emblem to business places and manufacturers

Today the list of employers who have complied with the agreement had grown to 481 and postal officials are expecting it to go well over the 500 mark when distribution of the new supplies start.

Groups Plan Action

In the meantime word comes of new groups planning to take action on codes of fair competition and wage and salary agreements.

Clifford J Bartlett chairman of the druggist's division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of all druggists who operate stores without soda fountains and drug stores and confectionary stores with soda fountains at the Chamber of Commerce office tomorrow morning at 10 An effort will be made to draft a uniform schedule of opening and closing hours for all such stores in the city

Local bakers are awaiting action of the National Bakers association which is meeting the next three days in Chicago to draft a code for that industry. The local bakers have signified their intention to stand by the adopted code when it is approved by the National Recovery administration

Labor Support Given

The Marion Central Labor union last night instructed its officers to sign the NRA code The union expressed confidence that the NRA would result in shorter hours and higher pay with work for the unemployed

The Associated Press in a dispatch today reported that a score of Ohio newspapers, including the Brush Moore group of seven of which The Marion Star is one, have announced adherence to the NRA press code which has been submitted to General Hugh Johnson, administrator of the recovery act.

An additional 301 names were placed on the honor roll in the postoffice today, bringing the total to 407 who have sent signed agreements to the Cleveland NRA branch office. The list was compiled by the Cleveland branch.

New employers who have complied with the NRA code include James Russo barber shop, 132

Ohio Newspapers Display Blue Eagle

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug 10—The blue eagle spread its wings across the masthead of at least a score of Ohio daily newspapers today

Most of the larger papers that announced acceptance of the newspaper code submitted for the approval of Gen Hugh S Johnson, recovery administrator at Washington, went beyond the terms of the agreement as drafted by the American Newspaper Publishers association

They said their reporters rewrite and copy-desk men would be placed on a 40-hour week The A N P A agreement merely said newspapers should not apply hour limits to professional persons NRA officials tentatively have classified editorial department employes as professional persons

Among the Ohio papers that announced a 40-hour week for reporters when they accepted the code were the Toledo Blade and Toledo Times, members of the Paul Block group of newspapers, and the Akron Beacon-Journal The six Scripps-Howard papers announced a 40-hour week for those editorial employes receiving less than $35 a week They are the Cleveland Press, Cincinnati Post Columbus Citizen, Toledo News-Bee, Akron Times-Press and Youngstown Telegram.

The Brush-Moore group of seven Ohio papers and the Ohio State Journal at Columbus, announced adherence to the code. The Brush-Moore papers are the Steubenville Herald-Star, East Liverpool Review, Canton Repository, Ironton Tribune, Marion Star, Portsmouth Times and Salem News.

FEDERAL JOB CHANGES MADE

President's Modified Reorganization Plan Goes Into Effect Today.

AFFECTS 10,000 WORKERS

900 Lose Jobs in Process; Expected To Result in $5,000,000 Cut.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug 10—The President's modified reorganization plan went into effect today involving some 10,000 employes of whom about 900 have to look for other jobs

There was, first, the prohibition bureau with 1,800 workers This was transferred into the justice departments new division of investigation. Six hundred employes, 200 in Washington, 400 in the field, were stricken from the payrolls, the rest reemployed in the new agency

Next was the merger of the bureau's of investigation and naturalization in the labor department. All of the 3,907 employes in these, save 275, were reappointed temporarily for four months The 275 were allowed 10 days notice of retirement or discharge

The third big transfer found the heretofore independent United States shipping board and the merchant fleet corporation put under the commerce department Secretary Roper, pending a survey, reappointed all the 924 in these two agencies He said, however, that he contemplates a reduction later

Until Sept 30 all the 2,800 employes of the abolished office of public buildings and public parks of the national capital will be retained temporarily

Official estimate the changes will eventually cut expenditures about $5,000,000 Additional reorganization is scheduled for December.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR OHIO BANKERS

Two Portsmouth Men Face Arrest on Charge of Falsifying U. S. Report.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Aug 10—Warrants for the arrest of Daniel Conroy, president, and Clarence Nodler, vice president, of the First National bank of Portsmouth, O., were issued in federal court here today The men are charged with conspiracy to violate the national banking laws.

The warrants against Conroy and Nodler were issued by U. S Commissioner W. P. Hotmann, at the request of E. J. Connelly, agent of the U S department of justice.

In them the two men were accused of making false entries in books of the bank and with making a false report to the comptroller of the currency concerning the condition of the bank.

Specifically it was charged that two false entries were made in books of the bank on Sept. 3, 1932. One it was alleged, represented a check on the Selby Shoe company of Portsmouth for $51,182 93, when it was charged no such check was drawn

Another entry allegedly placed the bank's indebtedness to depositors at $1,504,301.65 when it actually was $1,573,481.56.

SALES TAX HIT BY VOTE IN KENTUCKY

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 10—The death knell of the general sales tax advocated by Gov. Ruby Laffoon apparently was sounded in the Kentucky primary election, it was indicated today as counting of ballots progressed to a point where the trend was noticeable.

Anti-administration candidates apparently had captured five Democratic senate nominations, as compared to two Laffoon candidates nominated. Republicans Actualled enough districts in the primary to secure the Democratic party defeat of the 1934 senate.

Freed of One Charge—Locked Up on Another

Municipal court spectators this morning were treated to an "in-again-out-again-in-again" demonstration.

An 11-year-old charge of removing a mortgaged automobile from the county, against Charles S. Huston of East Church street, was dismissed by Judge William R. Martain, who ruled the charge was outlawed since it was more than three years old. The charge was brought in 1922 by the Marion Overland Co., now the McDaniel Motor Co.

However, Huston's visions of freedom were shortlived.

Attorneys for the state immediately filed an affidavit charging Huston with selling the mortgaged car On this charge, he pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the grand jury, with bond set at $100

He was to be held in the county jail, pending his attorney's arrangements for his release on bond. It was intimated that habeas corpus proceedings might be brought by his attorney, Paul D. Michels

Attorneys explained that a misdemeanor, such as removing the property from the county, is subject to age limits, but that a felony, selling mortgaged property, for instance, does not come under those limits

Huston was arrested on the 11-year old charge early this week when he returned to Marion from the west where he had lived since 1922

ORE SHIPMENTS UP AT LAKE ERIE PORTS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug 10 An increase of more than 2,000,000 tons over receipts for the same month last year are shown in statistics on ore dumping at Lake Erie ports

Freighters dumped 2,482,930 tons of ore at Lake Erie ports last month, bringing receipts for the season up to the first of this month to 3,826,206, compared with 625,928 tons in the corresponding period last year.

The fleet dumped 518,435 tons of ore last month at other than Lake Erie ports, bringing receipts for the season to 1,239,555 tons. Last year's receipts in the same period totaled 288,548 tons.

REVOLT BRINGS STATE OF WAR

Machado Refuses To Quit as President, Puts Army in Command.

STRIKE PARALYZES TRADE

Roosevelt Attitude Watched Closely; U. S. Ambassador Seeks To Restore Peace.

(Picture on Page 2)

By The Associated Press

HAVANA, Aug 10 — The question whether President Machado shall resign his post to bring peace to Cuba, now under a formally declared state of war as the result of the menace of revolution was placed today before the national executive committee of General Machado's liberal party.

The executive committee met to consider the formula of peace presented by United States Ambassador Sumner Welles, acting as mediator in the conflict between the Machado supporters and the opposition.

This formula entails the withdrawal to make way for a president approved by all parties.

Differences within the parties over the mediation program widened as the liberal conference got under way, and it appeared possible that the old party lines would be completely obliterated.

Strike Is Unbroken

Meanwhile, the general strike, which brought the conflict over Machado to a head, continued unbroken despite the efforts and expectations of the government.

Military forces controlled the island under decree of President Machado who said the general strike, paralyzing industry and trade, had given "enemies of the public peace" a chance to "create a revolutionary state in the country."

Conflicting and unyielding attitudes of numerous elements involved in the growing crisis increased the public tension. Machado has been deaf to suggestions that he resign and that his secretary of state, Orestes Ferrara, also step down.

The United States ambassador, Sumner Welles, moved swiftly in his efforts to bring fruition to efforts to restore normalcy. Governmental and political leaders sought in conferences today to bring the several factions into agreement on some program of solution.

Refuses To Quit

The declaration of a state of war came as the administration's answer to the suggestion of mediators that Machado and Ferrara resign and permit a new secretary of state, acceptable to all groups, to accede to the presidency.

Grave concern was expressed for the welfare of citizens unless the strike could be brought to a quick termination.

Since the state of war became effective at 6 o'clock yesterday evening the military has been in full control. Unrest has increased, and the attitude of the United States is being watched closely by Cubans wondering what action President Roosevelt may take.

One hope for compromise was found in a conference arranged for this morning between eight senators and eight members of Machado's liberal party. Another series of conferences called for exchange of views between Ambassador Welles, Secretary Ferrara, a group of liberal congressmen and a mixed congressional commission.

Meeting Called

The house of representatives was convoked for session today to hear Secretary Ferrara; but Ferrara said he had not been asked to attend.

Widespread police precautions have been taken to halt violence.

Explosion of a bomb early today, however, emphasized that strikers are not retreating from their position. The bomb damaged a bakeshop whose owner had not joined the strike.

The war declaration was attended by a series of swift-moving developments, among which were:

Figures Reveal Distinct Gain in Ohio Employment

O. S. U. Statistics Show Over 100,000 Jobs Added in Four Months Ending July 31.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Aug 10—The upward swing of employment in Ohio was reflected in cold figures today with announcement by Ohio State university's bureau of business research that from 100,000 to 125,000 workers were provided jobs during a four months period ending July 31

The employment increase from March through [illegible] estimated was 30 per cent This gain, it was added came prior to NRA campaign which has brought work to additional thousands.

"In addition to this substantial gain in new workers," said George A. Jones of the bureau of research staff, "another favorable factor which is not capable of measurement includes the fact that a large number of workers who have in the past been regularly employed part time or on a limited working day basis have been returned to more normal working days"

As compared with 100 for the average in 1926 often accepted as a normal business year, Ohio's employment index for July stood at 78, Jones said, adding that the March-to-July improvement equals about one-half the improvement required to establish the employment mark at the 1926 level"

The largest employment gain, 57 per cent since March, was recorded by the metal products group, according to the bureau. The vehicles group ranked second with a gain of 48 per cent.

Other manufacturing groups having large gains in the last four months were: machinery 46 per cent; stone, clay and glass 36 per cent; rubber products 36 per cent; lumber products industries, 27 per cent.

Farm Committee Proposes Killing of 5-Million Hogs

Processing Tax Also Suggested as Emergency Move Caused by Acute Feed Shortage.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—A program calling for the early slaughter of five million hogs, including four million young pigs, to be financed by a processing tax on all hogs weighing more than 225 pounds, was presented to farm administrators today by the corn and hog belt committee of 25 and immediately indorsed by most of the major farm organizations.

The program was presented at a conference of corn and hog producers called by administrators to devise an emergency program to reduce the nation's hog population as a result of an acute feed shortage in most of the corn belt.

Basil O. Smith of Chicago, chairman of the committee, said that the program would primarily affect the [illegible] marketing of the [illegible] would [illegible] hogs [illegible] in addition to [illegible] been recently depressed because of the heavy marketings of hogs by farmers who are short of feed.

Proceeds of the processing tax which would be levied for one year, would be used to buy up four million young pigs between 25 and 100 pounds from Aug. 15 to Oct. 1.

For these, the committee recommended the following schedule of prices: for pigs weighing from 25 to 40 pounds, $3 a hundredweight; 41 to 50 pounds, $3.50; 51 to 60 pounds, $4; 61 to 70 pounds, $7.50; 71 to 80 pounds, $7; 81 to 90 pounds, $6.50, and 91 to 100 pounds, $6.

MRS. ALICE SECREST CLAIMED BY DEATH

Succumbs at Home of Daughter on Frederick St.; Funeral Saturday.

Mrs. Alice B. Secrest, 79, died of a complication of diseases today at 7:30 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hall of 197 Frederick street. She had been ill for the last year.

Surviving her with the daughter are her husband, John C. Secrest, three sons, Richard of Toledo, Ralph of Gallipolis and Clifford of Marion, a sister, Mrs. Mollie Millhouse of 517 Ballentine avenue and two brothers, Harper K. Willis and John M. Willis, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Secrest was a member of Trinity Baptist church.

She was born May 13, 1854, in Coshocton, to John and Mary Ann Daniels Willis. Her first marriage took place in May of 1874 in Delaware to Charles C. Main. Mr. Main and their two children preceded her in death. Her marriage to Mr. Secrest took place in July of 1878 in Delaware.

The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the C. E. Curtis Co. mortuary on East Center street. Burial will be made in the Marion cemetery. Friends may view the body at the Hall home after 7 p. m. Friday, and until noon Saturday when it will be removed to the mortuary for funeral services.

sums they would bring in the markets.

The group proposed that administrators arrange for disposing of the resulting meat and meat products from the best of these animals by the sale on a moderate basis to relief agencies under definite agreements that the normal purchases of meat by these agencies will not be reduced.

The balance of the lower grades of meat, which would represent the major portion, resulting from this type of marketing would be condemned, tanked and such salvage realized "as would be possible without serious inconvenience to the usual demand for this type of product," the committee urged.

The committee made no definite recommendation as to the rate of a processing tax. It is estimated that from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000 would be required to carry out the emergency program.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum—and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

$6,000 APPROVED FOR RELIEF HERE

A grant of approximately $6,000 for relief expenditures here the last half of August has been approved by the state relief commission, city officials were advised yesterday. The grant is half of a $12,000 fund set aside by the commission for August relief needs here. A balance of $629.29 from the July fund will be added to the August amount, the commission said.

COAST GOLFER LEADS OHIOAN IN TOURNEY

Espinosa Six Down to Willie Goggin; Sarazen and Cooper Even.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 10—Ripping par to shreds with a sensational 31, four under par, Willie Goggin, a surprising shotmaker from Salada Beach, Calif., soared to a six-up lead over Al Espinosa of Akron, O., at the quarter turn of their 36-hole battle to enter the quarter finals of the national professional golf championship today.

Gene Sarazen, outstanding favorite in the field and "Lighthorse" Harry Cooper of Chicago, were all square with medal cards of 36, one over par.

Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich., led Paul Runyan of White Plains, two up at the same point, while Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N. J., held a two up advantage over Big Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del.

Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, defending champion, was two down to Johnny Farrell, through seven holes, but clicked off a par and a birdie on the eighth and ninth to square the match at the quarter turn. Both shot par 35s.

FASHIONS, planned to make women buy new clothes, will have dresses extremely tight in front, very loose behind, emphasizing the rear part of the dress, and bringing back the ancient "bustle." If you are too young to have seen a bustle, imagine four or five toy balloons, covered with cloth, fastened to the back of the dress, just below the waist. That is the bustle.

You wonder why women should ever have adopted the bustle, until you see the life-like production of the Hottentot Venus in Paris and pictures of women on walls of ancient cave dwellers.

The Hottentots of today are like the cave men of ancient times, in that they like their women as fat as possible, especially around the hips, so fat that even before 20 they would weigh 300 pounds or more.

A figure absolutely flat and straight in front with a bustle at the back is preposterous, but that makes no difference if it is fashionable.

No rules apply to women or anything concerning them. A young New York authoress who had been kept on a strict diet, consisting chiefly of milk, returns from a two weeks' vacation looking remarkably well and reports: "I went compietely off my diet while spending my vacation in Nova Scotia. What did I eat? Principally lobsters, cream and gin."

If a man did that he would die instead of looking better.

G.O.P. Leader Gives Pledge of Support

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 10—President Roosevelt was assured today by Representative Fish of New York, ranking Republican member of the house foreign affairs committee, of united support in whatever action he deems necessary to restore orders in Cuba.

The Republican leader called on the President, who is demanding an immediate new deal in the island republic in the interests of eliminating the political warfare.

Representative Fish declared that the first step which must be taken in Cuba "is the obtaining of the resignation of President Machado. Nothing can be done until Machado gets out and he must get out," said the New Yorker.

boy" in the advertising department of an automobile company.

That interested him. He hitchhiked to Los Angeles where he got a job as multigraph operator in the advertising department of the paint company. He studied advertising technique at night, was transferred to the St. Louis office.

There he continued his study of advertising in night school at Washington university. In three years he was in charge of the main advertising office at Chicago.

Detectives found him there Saturday.

BELLEFONTAINE TO GET MAN HELD HERE

Springfield Resident, in Custody Since Saturday, Faces Old Charge.

Henry Dingledine, 25, of Springfield, held here since Friday night for investigation, will be turned over to Bellefontaine authorities today, police said. He is wanted there, they said, on a breaking and entering charge growing out of a hardware burlary about a year ago.

Since Dingledine's arrest here police have been checking various phases of the case but had not filed specific charges against him. An automobile he was using at the time of his arrest was said by authorities to have been stolen in Ft. Wayne, Ind., and has been returned there. Officers also said an automatic revolver was found in his possession.

Dingledine would make no statement, police reported, except to deny the theft of the car.

ITALY PREPARES TO WELCOME GEN. BALBO

By The Associated Press

ROME, Aug. 10—A Roman custom not followed for many centuries will be revived Saturday to give Gen. Italo Balbo and members of his trans-Atlantic seaplane squadron a rousing welcome home.

It will have another purpose, too—to pay tribute to Premier Mussolini as the inspiration for Italy's renaissance in aviation. It will compete in enthusiasm with the receptions given the fliers in Chicago and New York and in other places along their route.

General Balbo advised the air ministry today that he plans to bring his Armada to Ostia, Rome's new port, from Lisbon, Portugal, 1,300 miles away, without stopping. Their arrival in Italy is set for Saturday evening.

Returning from Ostia, the premier and General Balbo will be driven through the central passage of the arch of Constantine, just outside the ancient coliseum, which thousands of Americans have visited.

A new roadbed has been constructed under the arch and a railing around it has been removed. The 1,600-year-old monument, erected after Constantine's victory over Maxentius, will again become the momentary center of attraction in the Roman world.

more Pennsylvania arguments between employer and workers.

The arbitration officials called before them today employers and employes in the Reading, Pa., hosiery strike, Dr. Leo Wolman, acting chairman of the labor board, also intended to bring his organization into action on another front, the Pottsville, Pa., shirt mill controversy.

The hosiery dispute was fixed for its hearing here today, and the shirt trouble set for Friday.

The rest of the industrial rehabilitation army under Hugh S. Johnson toiled on meanwhile to bring still more industries within the scope of "fair competition" code of the administration.

Within the last 24 hours approximately a half-dozen more industries have come in under the blue eagle through the approval of proposals by Johnson. The latest additions include such industries as evaporated milk, batting and padding goods, retail jewelry and oil.

The government, through Joseph B. Eastman, federal transportation coordinator, also had spoken a word of warning in labor's behalf.

He cautioned the railroads yesterday against plans for "economy at the expense of labor."

The carriers were told their general economy programs should be conducted through the three regional committees provided by law and not through organizations of their own. Such organizations, Eastman said, possessed the "earmarks of a device to avoid" the labor restriction provisions of the law.

Meantime, the postal system was pressed into service for publicity on the NRA campaign. The bureau of printing and engraving was on the first run of an eventual four hundred million issue of three-cent stamps, with the motif the recovery program. The stamps, purple in color, bear the pictures of a farmer, business man, industrial worker and a woman and the letters "NRA."

CINCINNATI YOUTH CONFESSES MURDER

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10—A 16-year-old "problem youth" was being returned here from Meridian, Miss., today after confessing, police said, that he beat to death Oliver S. Baily, 27, insurance broker and social registerite.

I am glad I killed him. He deserved it," District Attorney Aubert Dunn of Meridian quoted the youth, John J. Henkel of Cincinnati, as saying.

Baily's body was found in a "lover's lane" on the outskirts of the city Sunday morning. Dunn said Henkel declared he struck Baily down with his fists after the man took him out in his automobile Saturday night and "made an immoral approach on me."

Moving swiftly, the Hamilton county grand jury late yesterday returned two indictments charging Henkel with first degree murder and murder while committing a robbery.

Labor Union Votes NRA Indorsement

Indorsement of the NRA program was voted last night at a meeting of the Marion Central Labor union in Labor hall. Officers of the union were instructed to sign the NRA code and expressed hopes that aid to unemployed and low-paid workers will come as results of the program.

The union also expressed a vote of confidence to Dr. Carl W. Sawyer for his efforts in behalf of Marion during his service as chairman of the council of 100, from which he recently resigned. A letter was sent to Dr. Sawyer asking that he reconsider his resignation.

Preliminary plans for observance of Labor day were discussed.

JUDGES SCORN GANG THREATS IN CHICAGO

Jurists Answer Intimidation Attempts by Meting Out Heavy Sentences.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—Judges of Chicago's criminal court are answering the challenges of crime with action to put gunmen behind prison bars.

Threats of death sent to members of the judiciary were followed almost immediately yesterday by the sentencing of 10 more men to the penitentiary.

This action brought to 66 the total of alleged offenders sentenced to state prison since local authorities began an intensive drive 10 days ago to clear the dockets of criminal cases.

Judge Joseph B. David, one of the judges threatened, read a letter containing the threats and then promptly sentenced Lester Brown, 22, to the maximum of one year to life for robbery. He also sentenced Jerry Ford, reputed gangster of the Roger Touhy gang to three months in the house of correction for having a gun.

The threatening letter was addressed to Judge David and said that the writer, who did not sign his name, would shoot the judge and "a few more judges."

It would serve to spur the judiciary on to greater efforts, Chief Justice John Prystalski of the criminal court said.

"This campaign," he said, "will continue unabated until the dockets have been cleaned up."

NEVER FELT BETTER SINCE SHE LOST 39 POUNDS OF FAT

"Three months ago I started using Kruschen and weighed 201 lbs. Today after starting my 4th jar I've lost 39 lbs and am in perfect condition—really I never felt so well." Mrs. B. C. Terry, Tampa, Fla.

Don't stay fat and unattractive—not when it's so easy and safe to get rid of double chins, ugly hip-fat and unbecoming plumpness on upper arms—at the same time build up strength and increase vitality—feel younger and keep free from headaches, indigestion, acidity, fatigue and shortness of breath.

Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts first thing every morning in a glass of hot water. If not joyfully satisfied with results of one jar (lasts 4 weeks) money back from Henney & Cooper or any drugstore the world over. But make sure you get Kruschen—the SAFE way to reduce.—Adv.

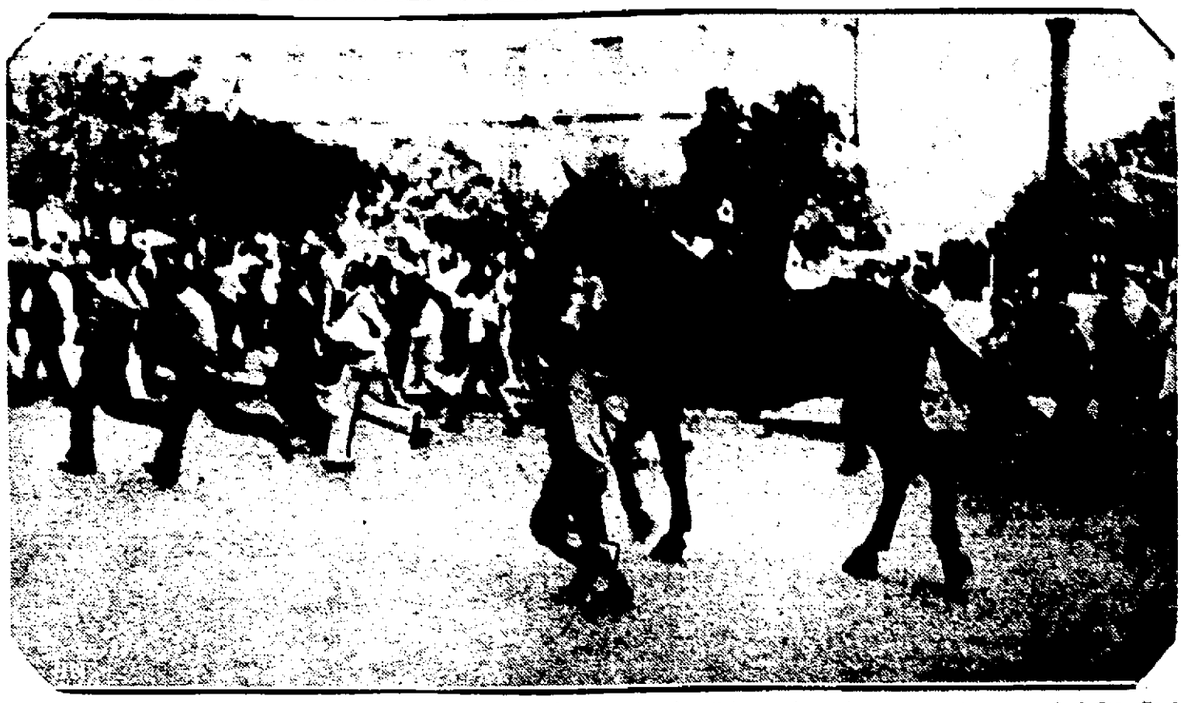
HAVANA'S "MOUNTIES" FOLLOW UP MACHINE GUNS IN MASSACRE



One of Cuba's mounted police brigade is shown here, with club and pistol at hand, as he rode into the crowd of 2,000 Havana residents who had the temerity to engage in a premature celebration after a false report that President Gerardo Machado had resigned. Police with machine guns a few moments before fired into the crowd, killing 30 and wounding more than 100. A special plane rushed this picture to the United States. Observers declare the days of the Machado dictatorship are numbered.

TWO APPLICATIONS RECEIVED BY GRANGE

Program Presented By Montgomery Group in Meeting at DeCliff.

Two applications were received for membership by Montgomery grange Tuesday night in the grange hall at DeCliff. William Sloat Jr. presided for a program which opened with a reading, "The Weakest One," by Miss Naomi Coon. A recitation, "Where to Go on Sunday," was given by Miss Ruth Fogle and Woodrow Thorpe played a violin number, "Beautiful Stars Above."

Readings included "Dog in the Manger" by John Deal, "Keep On Keeping On" by Zell Williams and "The Germs of the Old Oaken Bucket" by Wayne Hoagland. A song, "The Old Oaken Bucket," was presented by a quartet including Mrs. Rosa Woodbury, Mrs. Henry Welling, Henry Coon and William Sloat Jr., accompanied at the piano by Mrs. M. C. Kennedy. Contests were conducted by Mrs. Rosa Woodbury and won by Carl Deal and Mrs. Henry Thibaut. A song by the grange closed the program.

The next meeting will be Aug. 22 and will be a vacation program and party in charge of the lecturer, Mrs. Henry Coon.

Family Reunions

As in the past The Star is anxious to carry reports of family reunions held in Marion and surrounding territory. Because of the large number, however, accounts must be brief. Reports to The Star should list the time and place of meeting, date and place of next reunion and new officers. Please omit long lists of names of those present.

TAKE X-RAY OF MAN CRUSHED IN CAR

An X-ray examination was to be made this afternoon to determine the seriousness of a back injury suffered by George King of Milwaukee, Wis., who was hurt yesterday in an accident at the hump in the Erie railroad yards.

King's condition remained fairly serious this morning, City hospital attaches reported.

WARREN B. KELLOGG OF CALEDONIA DIES

Former Township and Village Official Passes Away in Marion Hospital.

Special to The Star

CALEDONIA, Aug. 10 Warren B. Kellogg, 69, lifelong resident of Caledonia and vicinity died of complications yesterday at 2:30 p. m. in the City hospital at Marion. He had been ill three months and was removed to the hospital July 1.

The body was removed to the Timson funeral home here. Funeral services will be held at the funeral home Friday at 2:30 p. m., followed by interment in the Caledonia cemetery.

A woman's reason for liking a man's cigarette

Maybe you'll think I'm a bit inconsistent. Most things I'm fond of are really quite feminine . . . dainty, frilly frocks—delicate desserts—yes, and delicate compliments, too. To me my cigarette is a personal thing—it touches my lips—so give me one with real character. For some reason or other, I find that whenever I reach for a Lucky, always "Luckies Please". They're as mild and pure as can be—I wonder if "Toasting" isn't the reason after all!

...cludes refinancing of ...rtgages which were in ex... to the passage of the ...933 where the owner ... through default of ... interest and taxes, and ...financed through ordi... channels In this class the corporation is authorized to pay taxes in cash and to pay in cash for necessary repairs and maintenance and for the incidental expenses on the refinancing and to take up the existing mortgage notes by issuing to the holders of such mortgages and other liens the Home Owners Loan corporation four per cent tax exempt bonds. This transaction requires the consent of the holders of such liens to make an exchange for the corporation bonds

The second classification is that of such cases where the holder of the existing mortgage is not willing to exchange for the corporation bonds and where the home owner cannot obtain the necessary loan from the ordinary lending agencies. In such an exigency, the corporation is authorized to pay off existing loans in cash, providing the amount required does not exceed 40 per cent of the present appraised value of the property

Third Type of Case

In the third type of case, in which the property has been lost by foreclosure within two years prior to the refinancing, the corporation is authorized to pay taxes and the cost of necessary repairs, maintenance and incidental expenses in cash and to issue bonds to redeem the home for the benefit of the former home owner. In such cases, however the total amount of cash advanced and bonds issued must not exceed 50 per cent of the present day appraised value, in no case to exceed $14 000

The fourth type of relief comprises such cases where property is not encumbered by a mortgage but where the owner needs relief by payment of taxes and necessary repairs and maintenance In such cases the corporation is authorized to advance loans in cash up to 50 per cent of the present day appraised value and in no case exceeding $14 000

Two fundamental restrictions upon all loans provide that the property must not exceed $20 000 in value, must be occupied by the owner or held as a homestead and not designed for more than four families

"F. P. 1" BILLED FOR FRIDAY, SATURDAY AT OHIO THEATER

When Leslie Fenton and his bride, the lovely Ann Dvorak went on their honeymoon trip, they chose Europe. While abroad, Fenton made several pictures and among them was F P. 1, which will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ohio

Conrad Veidt, who has been seen here in Congress Dances and several other foreign-made pictures, has the leading role, with Fenton and vivacious Jill Esmond popular star of the English stage and films in the leading roles

"F P 1 means Floating Platform One ' and as the name suggests is a platform built in the middle of the ocean for airplane service The floating aerodrome, as seen in this picture, is a gigantic steel platform supported by 32 enormous cylinders having a draught of 150 feet At that depth the ocean is assumed to be so still that the rigidity of the floating platform is guaranteed even in stormy weather

BLOW-OUT PROOF* RIVERSIDE TIRES

Blowout Proof because of an extra patented process:

LATEX WELDED CORDS
(100% PURE LIQUID RUBBER)

which prevent Cord Separation... the cause of blowouts

Blistering heat develops inside your tire every time you drive your car 35 miles an hour or faster! Heat so terrific that in many tires it causes cords to separate. It weakens the tire from within, causing blisters you can't see. You hit a rock or a bump. Suddenly—BANG—a blowout! It may come today, tomorrow, any minute! A blowout that can send your car hurtling off the road! The lives of your family are at stake!

Riverside tires are built to prevent blowouts! Riversides' Cords—the heart of the tire—are made from extra strong, long staple, premium cotton. Every cord in every ply is dipped in LATEX—100% pure, liquid, virgin rubber. This welds the cords into a super strong unit! It gives Riversides the strongest tire carcass made! It prevents cord separation—the cause of blowouts!

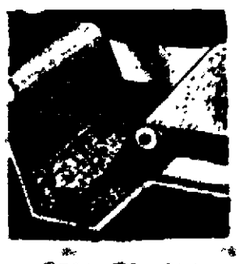
FREE TIRE MOUNTING

Why We Save You Money

Of course Riversides are made in one of America's largest and best tire factories. BUT—they come direct to us—minus the manufacturer's selling and general overhead expense. That's a saving. The second saving comes from Wards low cost method of distribution. These two reasons explain why we sell high quality tires for less. It's simple to figure out for yourself why Riversides are better in quality, mileage, and safety than any other tire at the same price.

Cord Separation

This shows cords that have been separated by heat inside the tire. Cord separation causes internal blisters and weakens the tire. A blowout is the result!



Latex Dipping

By this latex process, every cord in every ply in all Riverside tires is dipped in Latex. This welds the cords into a super strong, tire that defies cord separation and blowouts!

*RIVERSIDE TIRES will not blow out under normal road conditions during the life of the tread if they are kept properly inflated in accordance with the specified air pressures.

Wards Unlimited Guarantee

For your protection every single Riverside tire is guaranteed by Wards to give satisfaction in quality, mileage. No time limit! No mileage limit! A tire to be extra good—has to be extra safe to be backed by this strongest tire guarantee ever written!

Stand By The Republic!

Cuba's President Machado, faced with widespread unrest among the people who elected him to take care of their political affairs, apparently raced to the same conclusion that most Latin-American presidents favor when the going gets rough. He decided that he was the symbol of the republic and that his opposition was the symbol of the destroyers of the republic.

Another characteristic of this line of reasoning is refusal to step out of office under fire. It is, at best, a point of honor which a republican president has a moral right to observe. At worst, it is the sign of a type of obstinacy which prefers destruction of the government to its abandonment by its chief executive.

Few Americans who have been following the growth of revolutionary spirit in Cuba can evade a conviction that President Machado eventually is going to step out of the presidency under pressure. The population of Cuba is far from being established in the ways of a republic. President Machado's virtual dictatorship during the last nine years has not commended his type of system to the people as worthy of continuance.

In 1924, he was elected for a four-year term. He promised repeatedly to retire at the end of this term, in accordance with his platform. Nevertheless, in 1927 he induced the Cuban congress to pass resolutions extending his term two years, not a difficult feat of statesmanship because the congressmen's terms were extended, too.

A constitutional convention met in 1928 to pass on these proposals, but instead of performing that function the delegates went a step further and adopted an amendment whereby the president could run for a second term of six years. An election was held in which Machado was the only candidate. He entered upon his term in 1929. It expires in the spring of 1935.

The tone of Cuban affairs since then has been one of suppressed dissatisfaction. Eventually, Cuba will throw out Machado; that is a certainty. In view of the violence which has sprung up in the last few days, there is reason to believe that he will do well to get the traditional battleship ready for his hurried departure.

Vacation Mileposts.

Inserted here and there in the press last week and bound to appear with some regularity for the next week or so, notices of opening dates for the fall school terms variously horrified, pleased and amazed a generation intimately concerned with such matters. They are the infallible signs of a summer vacation that no longer stretches out ahead but has been largely consumed.

One cannot help but wonder sometimes what the school-going generation thinks of all the talk it hears about the expense of maintaining an educational system. Perhaps, in the traditional manner of the American student, it doesn't think at all, but merely takes what is given without asking uncomfortable questions. It is better that it should be that way. There is time enough to worry when schooling is over.

If there be an occasional precocious youngster who allows himself to be impressed by the sweating and groaning of the taxpayers, he may prevent himself from conceiving a harmful idea of his expense to the community by realizing that his advantages are payment of a social obligation which taxpayers have taken upon themselves. He is merely one small item of material in an experiment which society is bound to continue.

Beginning in the country's earliest days and continuing with constantly increasing intensity, the American people have striven to elevate their prestige by intensive education of the new generation. In this sense, it is an experiment of infinitely better standing than that costly one now being conducted in the name of public employment. It is a project to which the United States has dedicated itself, its energy and its resources.

These are not proper thoughts for a schoolboy. As preparations are made for another school year, however, they might be proper thoughts for those who support educational systems and who sometimes, more in irritation than thought, have condemned those systems offhand because of their expense. Their attitude is scarcely consistent with the ideals they have set for national education.

Statisticians' Paradise.

It would be surprising to hear that most statisticians didn't clap their hands when told that the federal government was planning a central statistical agency for the purpose of presenting a complete picture of national conditions. Whether or not the individual figure wizard has a chance to participate directly in this important project, he realizes what it will mean to have available complete information on the state of the nation, in terms of figures.

A central statistical bureau is a logical development in an era whose slogan is control. To know what it is doing and what it should do, government must know accurately the results of what it already has done. Regarding the present experiment with employment and wages, it must be able to know definitely how many men have been employed and how greatly buying power has increased before it can proceed intelligently with the remainder of its program.

The substance of the ideal behind everything that is being done is a visionary conception of the United States as a balanced economic unit held together on a permanently prosperous basis by stabilized production and consumption. Everyone knows that the United States has not been up to those standards in the past, even in its days of greatest prosperity. But no one knows how far away from standard it has been, nor what progress it has made toward an ideal state in the last few months.

It is not a subject that can be handled efficiently unless complete information is made available by experts responsible for delineating all pertinent facts in an understandable manner. Unification of the efforts of governmental statisticians will be regarded in most quarters as a commendable development in the Washington bureaucracy.

Good Strategy.

From the standpoint of what has been termed labor's great opportunity to better its condition during the remodeling of the American economic system, strikes prevalent in many parts of the country must be viewed as manifestations of strategy. It is a responsibility of labor, labor's leaders and the general public to try to determine when they constitute good strategy and when they are bad strategy.

The Pennsylvania coal strike, submitted to this analysis, would seem to represent bad strategy. The fact that labor voluntarily terminated it Tuesday in compliance with the wishes of the federal government seems to be a tacit admission that it was a move which strikers were unwilling to continue when they understood the circumstances. It is an admission, in short, that needless difficulties in an important industry were averted only by prompt action on the government's part.

This is not a creditable reflection on labor's collective intelligence. No strike which threatens to create serious difficulty and which is terminated by labor without the gain of advantages can be viewed as creditable to labor. Every strike of such a nature necessarily appears to have been organized and maintained by obstinacy and ignorance, instead of intelligence and organized strength. Perhaps such difficulties are inevitable when a population is emerging from a depression, but they are none the less lamentable for that fact.

It would seem to be a fairly dependable general rule that strikes are not good strategy in a period when industrial improvement depends on universal cooperation. The national administration made no secret of the probability that the Pennsylvania coal strike would wreck the recovery program unless it were settled quickly. Its position cannot be described as one of exaggerated fear. Continuing prevalence of strikes would be a dead weight on the recovery movement.

Labor is in an unique position. For the first time, the power of the federal government has been turned to improving its standards. It must recognize, in turn, its responsibility to act intelligently to gain the benefits it has been promised. Dogged adherence to the old methods of collective bargaining is a questionable policy in many cases.

New York To Syria.

The world's heart is not too jaded with thrills of great accomplishments in the air to flutter once more at the news of a new record for long-distance flying with no stops. Two Frenchmen, Rossi and Codos, claim the laurels.

The only way to appreciate their accomplishment fully is to think of it with a map in the background. Early Saturday morning, they left New York City. Early Monday afternoon, they landed near Beirut, Syria, approximately 5,600 miles from their starting place.

On the way they experienced all the difficulties common to long-distance flights. They ran into dangerous weather over the Atlantic ocean. Hours of vibration caused trouble with their plane. Yet, they landed safely, with gasoline to spare. Had they been rash enough to sacrifice safety to ambition, they might have flown several hundreds of miles further.

Each new record in the air makes the comparatively new experience of flying more commonplace. Even to those who yet have the experience of a first flight before them, the great deeds of aviators are familiar. A continuance flight of 5,600 miles is a stupendous thing, but it means chiefly that some other plane eventually will be flown a greater distance.

Constant striving for records that mark man's progress in annihilating time and distance will go on for many years to come. When the edge of adventure has been dulled by too much repetition, men will find themselves in full control of a mode of transportation whose possibilities still amaze them in these times. Yet to be built is the first stratosphere plane, which will make 56 hours for 5,600 miles seem slow by comparison.

Comment of the Press

THE LIGHT IN THE CELLAR.

One gathers from news reports that the gentle and refined art of home brewing, which went into a sudden decline with the arrival of 3.2, is again receiving attention.

The reason of this is taxes. The two-cent cap tax put on bottled beer by the Legislature helped put beer in the luxury class for some. In fact, everyone feels a sharp shooting pain when they have to contribute 48 cents extra for a case.

Of course, one can buy draught beer and avoid paying the cap tax. When buying for home consumption, however, it is inconvenient to buy it by the keg, and few are close enough to a beer dispensary to run out with a little tin bucket when this refreshment is needed.

It looks like the breweries might have to start putting out their product in one, two and four gallon kegs, or types of retainers which would not be subject to the cap tax. This arrangement might be effective in helping put out the basement light. Repeal of the beer cap tax by the special Legislature would also be helpful.—Ohio State Journal.

Body Needs Quantities of Water.

"How much water should I drink?" "Is it best to drink water between meals or at meal time?" "Is hot water more beneficial than cold water?" "Is seawater harmful?" These are questions I am often asked.

Water is essential to life. A person may live for an indefinite period without food, providing he has plenty of water.

Gandhi demonstrated this truth. Why is water so important?

Water makes possible certain necessary chemical changes to occur within the body. Without these reactions life cannot continue.

I wonder how many of you know that the body consists of about seventy per cent water! Different parts of the body contain different amounts of water. For example, the enamel of the teeth contains only two per cent water, while the saliva contains about 99 per cent and the blood about 80 per cent water.

The amount of water within the body is kept at a pretty definite level. When an excess amount accumulates the skin removes part of it in the form of sweat. In addition, more fluids are brought to the kidneys and water is excreted.

Many of the wastes of the body are dissolved by the water we take. Irritating and poisonous substances are diluted by the water content of the body.

Persons suffering from a lack of water are said to become "dehydrated." By this is meant that the tissues are deprived of the normal amount of water necessary to carry on the normal functions. The red blood corpuscles cannot act as they should without it.

Bear in mind that water is necessary if many important chemical changes within the body are to be promoted. Since more than three quarts of water are thrown off through the skin, lungs and kidneys of the average person each day, it is essential that this loss be replaced.

Drink at least six to eight glasses of water a day. If you prefer to drink your water at meals, do so, providing it is not used to wash down your food and thus interfere with digestion. It is advisable to take water between meals. Avoid iced and very cold water. — Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

'HOME-MADE' MANNERS.

The best way to teach manners is to insist on them in the home.

The child who is in the habit of eating in a slovenly way at his own table cannot change suddenly when he is a guest in another house, nor can the boy or girl who treats his own parlor as some wild place feel at ease in a more formal drawing room where he is paying a call.

For manners are habits, and to allow liberties at home will not give our children ease abroad, and they will some day resent the lack of preparation which has led them into an embarrassing situation.

It is never too early to learn certain amenities of life, and the smallest child can be taught not to take the most comfortable chair in the room when older people are present, not to help himself to the largest piece of cake or take the last candy in the box.

Encourage his generosity along these lines withpraise, for though we call it generosity, it is also the first expression of a social sense which is the basis of good manners.

If a boy, going out with his mother, learns early to act as her escort he will thank her in after years when he comes to taking out girls. Often mothers with sons of 10 or even 12 will enter a trolley car last, pay fares, signal conductors, in short, behave as though the boy with her were still a helpless baby or a hopeless half-wit.

By the time a boy is 8 years old, or even less, he can do some if not all of these things. And the pride he feels at the responsibility which he carries as the "man" of the party will fully repay the mother for the extra trouble of training the child.

For teaching etiquette is no easier than learning it, and the mother must control many an impulse to take matters into her own hands if she is to succeed.

WHEN GOV. ST. CLAIR WAS REMOVED.

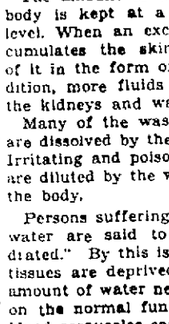
From a son of Judge Dunlevy, who was a member of the first constitutional convention of Ohio, comes an explanation of the summary removal of Governor Arthur St. Clair and the appointment of General William Henry Harrison as his successor in the northwest territory, by President Thomas Jefferson.

Jefferson was broad-minded but there were some things he would not tolerate in any official holding a subordinate position under his administration, and one of them was opposition to and ridicule of democratic institutions to which he was unalterably committed. St. Clair and the convention differed about many things and particularly about the boundaries of the state proposed to be established. St. Clair was not in favor of statehood at all but if one were to be established he favored a much smaller one than that wanted by the convention. One night, after a particularly stormy session at Chillicothe, followed by a street demonstration, Gov. St. Clair came to the rooms of Judge Dunlevy, Jeremiah Morrow and Judge Foster of Cincinnati, and inveighed against the demonstration and the "impossibility of democratic institutions." Judge Dunlevy reduced his words to writing and furnished them to President Jefferson. The removal order followed.

A Washington Daybook

BY HERBERT PLUMMER.

Washington, Aug. 10—There are ways and ways of getting to congress. Being associated with the house or senate in minor positions often has paved the way for a clerk of a committee or a secretary of a member to win a seat in his own right.



ROBERT LA FOLLETTE

Perhaps the most outstanding example is that of "Young Bob" LaFollette of Wisconsin. Senator LaFollette can remember as a boy following his father around on his campaign tours in Wisconsin. Later he became his father's secretary.

"Young Bob's" remarks in the senate are often punctuated with references to his associations with his father. In the closing hours of the special session he conducted a fight for publicity of income tax returns. He admitted at the time that he was merely continuing a crusade launched years ago "by my illustrious father."

There are two other senators in the present congress who began their political careers in minor capacities on Capitol Hill. And there are numerous representatives who trace their political origin to that source.

Senator Wallace H. White, jr., Republican of Maine, was an assistant clerk to the senate committee on commerce and also served as secretary to the president of the senate and the late Senator William P. Frye of Maine.

Bennett Champ Clark, Democratic senator from Missouri, served as parliamentarian of the house under his father, the late Speaker Champ Clark.

Representative Ramspeck of Georgia served as chief clerk in the house postoffice in 1911 as well as secretary to William Schley Howard, member of congress in 1912.

Representative Chavez served as a clerk in the senate in 1918-19 and is now a representative-at-large from New Mexico.

Representative Cochran of Missouri was secretary to the late William J. Stone and clerk to the senate committee on foreign relations.

Representative McLean of New Jersey was a page in the senate in 1897 and also was private secretary to Senator John Kean of New Jersey from 1902 to 1911.

Mrs. Florence P. Kahn of California and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, now members of the house, were associated in the offices of their husbands when they were representatives from their respective states.

Paul Kvale, senior sitting member in the house of the Farmer-Labor party, was elected to fill the vacancy from Minnesota occasioned by the sudden death of his father.

South Trimble, clerk of the house, reversed the order. He is a former representative from Kentucky, first serving as a representative and then as an official.

And Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the senate, came to that body in the capacity of a page and served in various minor roles of the senate before being elected its secretary.

IN MAN.

Something sublime must dwell in man
That, spite of all mishaps, he can
Through every chance and circumstance,
Still plan and labor, work, advance;
That when, as toil-filled years roll on,
And ebbing energy seems gone,
New burdens come, new urges goad,
His strength wells up to lift the load

Some dauntless forces must abide
In man; despite the dreams denied,
The glories glimpsed yet not attained,
The goals too lofty to be gained.
The loves and longings unfulfilled,
His hope and faith are never stilled.

Serene through hurry and turmoil,
Unstained by mire, untired by toil,
Akin to dawning and the sea
And touched with twilight's mystery,
Something majestic, noble, high,
Within man's lesser self must be.

New York Day by Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 10—Manhattan's gold rush is not confined to jobless mitten-making west in the hope of easing a bare living. Investigators include responsible importants in many callings. Bernard Gimbel, of the department store, Gene Tunney and Eddie Dowling of the theater.

Such swanky resorts as Southampton, Newport and Tuxedo Park have several social lights who journeyed incognito to stake out claims in sundry fields whispering of strikes. Cobina Wright's husband Bill, both in society, is prospecting in New Mexico to recoup market losses.

A large sporting goods house has a department specializing in outfits for city-bred prospectors. Everything on a grand scale for those who believe there is gold in "them thar hills." Private classes for instruction in rudimentary geology have many Social Registerites.

There is a theory Wall Street will not provide a means of quick fortune for years. Discovering a gold lode appears the only way for a sudden financial come-back. Thus many have deserted flannels and the veranda for high-hipped boots, leather jerkin and the placer pan.

New York has 400,000 men and women who sleep by day and work by night that the rest of us may eat new bread for breakfast, drink fresh milk, read newspapers and perhaps slide certain letters under the clock before beginning a day. They sleep in hushed homes with blinds down and are busiest when most of us are dead to the world. I am told that once attuned to night work few want to give it up.

Night, too, brings out its human miscellany that fades with dawn. The tottering old lady with a tray of shoe laces, the rachitic fellow with one myoptic eye and many matches, the white-haired patriarch with packets of needles, etc. All trying to appeal to mankind in its most expansive moments. And with perpetually wilted expressions trying the current of kindness as it comes.

The Marry-Go-Round

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

GLIMPSES—AT FORTY.

This column seldom quotes from letters—but the following "glimpses of life at 40" submitted by Eva Fox of Hollywood, make such interesting (if cynical) reading that I consider her reflections well worth quoting.

* * *

At 20, we are leery of the guy who professes his love, demands everything, but says nothing about marriage. At 40, we are more suspicious of the man who proposes marriage, wants everything — but says nothing about love.

* * *

Forty is the age when a woman worries half the time for fear of losing her gigolo—and the other half for fear she won't be able to get rid of him.

At 40, when a man gazes at you intently, you wonder whether he is registering interest — or merely counting the crowsfeet and those fine lines under the eyes.

Don't kid yourself into believing it's love, when you have that yearning to "look after" a man. It's just your mother-instinct manifesting itself—wanting to take care of little boys. (And I never realized that!)

* * *

It isn't always love that prompts a man to seek the coziness of your apartment. Sometimes it's merely hunger for home-cooking and the need of a place in which to relax and recuperate before starting out on the next adventure.

There is just one martyrdom harder to endure than the attentions of a man you don't like, who persists in mauling you—and that is the inattention of a man you do like, who forgets to kiss you.

* * *

Kick a cat or a man out of the front door, and he will saunter serenely around to the back door and wait to be let in.

* * *

The foregoing have been slightly changed and edited, but, in the main, they are as submitted. Thanks, Miss Fox. But—you are a bit more cynical than I am. I have to run two or three of these through the wringer, to make them soft enough to swallow.—Copyright, 1933, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Glimpses of the Past

TEN YEARS AGO.

It was Friday, Aug. 10, 1923.

Thousands of people from all sections of the United States assembled in Marion as last rites were held here for the late President Warren G. Harding. Although because of the vastness of the throng it was impossible to place anything like an accurate estimate on its size, calculations on the number of people here ranged between 100,000 and 150,000. Virtually every state in the union was represented. On every road leading into Marion automobiles were parked in lines extending six miles from the city limits. It was estimated that 40,000 cars were parked in or near Marion during the day.

In addition to the thousands coming to the Harding rites in automobiles, on the traction lines, and 30 regular railway trains, others arrived on 20 special trains.

In the first car in the Harding funeral procession were the honorary pallbearers and in the second car rode President Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge and the president's aide, Colonel Sherrill. In the next car were Chief Justice William H. Taft of the United States Supreme court, Frederick H. Gillette, speaker of the House of Representatives, and Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state. Other members of the cabinet with numerous other notables in public life were also in the cortege. Honorary pallbearers were Major General Robert L. Bullard, David C. Shanks, Charles H. Muir, Andre Walker Brewster, O'Ryan and Rickett; Rear Admirals Edward W. Eberle, Hugh Rodman, Henry B. Wilson, Stitt and Potter and Major General John A. Lejuene, commandant of the Marine corps. General John J. Pershing and other dignitaries had preceded the cortege to the cemetery where, with the honor guard, honorary pallbearers and members of the funeral party, they took their places around the entrance to the vault.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

It was Sunday, Aug. 10, 1913.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, suffragist leader, led a mob of 10,000 women in an assault on the residence of Premier Asquith in London. A section of the regular London police corps was unable to disperse the mob and a mounted squad had to be called out. For 30 minutes the two forces fought a hand-to-hand battle until finally the women were dispersed in a desperate charge by the cavalry.

The annual Martin family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hedges of Marion.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freese of Orchard street.

Rev. John Ferguson of Los Angeles, who was here visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Ferguson, gave the morning and evening sermons at the First Presbyterian church.

Charles Bolen, supervisor of several switch tenders in the local Erie hump yards, saved the life of Mr. Swindler, a switch tender, when Swindler became ill and fell in front of the tracks in the yards in the path of a speeding oil car. Bolen raced with the car and, although handicapped by having but one arm, he pulled Swindler from the track just in time to prevent his being run over.

... Uhl, former Marion ... of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis ... East Center street, has ... secretary of the Amer... Products Industries, ... headquarters in Wash...

... secretary of the Na... Manufacturers asso... a director of the Tim... ...ing Co.

...graduation at Wooster ... Uhl has specialized ... lumber industry on ...relations and trade ... has taken an active ...preparation of a code ...rition for the lumber ... products industries, which is now before General Hugh S. Johnson for decision.

Goes to Washington

Uhl first became affiliated with the National Lumber Manufacturers association with offices in Chicago. Later the headquarters were moved to Washington where he has been since.

In a recent interview Uhl is quoted as saying "the National Recovery act will probably become a permanent law somewhat modified by the emergency experience" and that it will result in a radical change in American business methods. The interest of each industrial group as a whole will form much larger than in the past, with the result that every business man will find his association's affairs demanding as much attention as his own business.

"The supervision of business is now an established function of the government, and as the principle of that supervision is home rule, or self-government by business groups, trade associations become in a very real sense the general directors of group affairs. This will undoubtedly tend to crystalize and solidify the business fabric of the nation. It will also tend to restrict individual initiative of the destructive sort.

Seen Change Coming

"In the future the individual manufacturer will have to depend more upon quality efficiency of his productive organization, progressiveness and high grade of salesmanship and far less on petty shrewdness and tricks of prices. His success will depend greatly on his standing with his competitors and his loyalty to the interests of the group and his understanding of his business not only as a money-maker for himself but as a part of a balanced national economy which will aim at steady distributed prosperity rather than at meteoric individual successes which may be collective failures."

Uhl was graduated from Marion High school in 1915. His wife and child will arrive here today for a visit with his parents and he is expected here on a visit Aug. 20.

FORMER CRESTLINE RESIDENT BURIED

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Aug. 10—Crestline friends received word Tuesday of the death of Mrs. J. A. Rosengreen, 75, a former Crestline resident, who died at 1:45 Tuesday at the Massillon hospital where she had been a patient for several months suffering from a complication of diseases. Warning

Special to The Star

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Aug. 10—Now look out Democratic administration, you are about to revert to the old Republican type. You are telling some Latin American country who shall be president, and who can't. Now there is no doubt that Cuba is run "rock eyed," but what country ain't?

Now we get our sugar from Cuba, and anything we do in Cuba is going to be misunderstood. So about the best thing we can do in Cuba is to let Cuba take care of Cuba.

I don't care how little your country is you got a right to run it like you want to. When the big nations quit meddling, then the world will have peace.

Yours,

Will Rogers

No More Hemorrhoids

All Pile Agony Ended Without Cutting or Salves.

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the cause of Piles to be internal—congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby; the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay Henney & Cooper and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed —Adv

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—How should materials be prepared and combined in making a salad?

Answer—Put together only those foods which go well together because of their suitability of flavor, texture and color Use whole or cut in attractive shapes so that they are readily distinguishable in the salad. Do not combine too many materials in one salad or cut the materials too fine

Soft materials such as soft fruits and cooked potatoes should be left in large pieces Meat should be cut in cube-like pieces, cutting across the grain. A pair of kitchen scissors is convenient for cutting many things. Fish should be boned and flaked Hard cooked eggs may be sliced, chopped or the yolk and white separated and used as garnish. The yolks may be pressed through a coarse sieve. Cheese may be rubbed through a sieve or grated. Raw carrots or turnips may be ground using the coarse knife of the meat grinder, or grated. All the more solid vegetables including beets may be cut in attractive shapes, sections, wedges, dices, slices circles, strips.

"Use onion if you must or garlic if you dare," but use sparingly and blend well with other ingredients.

A sprinkling of lemon juice helps apples, pears and bananas to keep their fresh color.

(Answer by the Nutrition Specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service).

Mrs Lusch is assisting Mrs. Wilson in arranging the lawn decorations.

HOOVER 50 TODAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Aug 10—Former President Herbert Hoover is "not at home" to callers today—his fifty-ninth birthday. The announcement was made by a secretary who intimated the former president and his wife planned to observe the day by themselves. Their two sons, Herbert Jr. and Allan are in southern California.

"—my skin became clear"
—wouldn't you like to be able to say this, too? Then pause a moment and reason ... skin affections usually result because of lowered resistance from below the skin surface. Then help the blood that purifies the skin, by increasing its red cells and restoring the vital oxygen-carrying hemoglobin in these cells so that more vitality comes to the tissues. This will increase the ability of the blood to devour infectious pimple germs.
That is just what S.S.S. does—proved by tens of thousands of unsolicited letters of thankfulness.
"Shall I use a good soap?"—certainly—"and cosmetics?"—naturally but first observe Nature's law and lay the sound foundation from underneath the skin.
S.S.S., in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has the special property of increasing the red cells and restoring the hemoglobin content of the blood, when deficient. Try a course of S.S.S. and note the constant improvement. © The S.S.S. Co

"... never mind—come on!"

"... on nothing!" retorted the ... furiously. "At least not ... stand up! Didn't I tell you ... my leg? It's sore as hell. ... can feel it bleeding."

"... take a look at it. Here—... a match."

... strained his eyes in the di... of the voices. He heard the ... being struck, but it's flame ... indiscernible—no more ... mere pinpoint of light.

"... damn saps not to beat ... for the club at once!" Colin ... the querulous voice as ... the injured man. "It was a ... stunt to keep on looking for ... me, or any trace of him, in ... even if Lazarre has got the ... up. And now we're lost our... and have been for God ... how many hours!"

... with a quick, low intake of his breath, leaned sharply forward; he sensed, rather than saw, Germaine stir suddenly at his side.

"Maybe we should have headed straight back when the fog first began to settle," the other admitted; "but Lazarre's dead right and you know it. The man, whoever he is, knows too much. He got one look too many before Lazarre fired at him."

"TOO bad Lazarre missed," growled the injured one, "or we wouldn't all of us have been hunting our heads off ever since daybreak. And a hot chance we ever had of finding him in this God-forsaken wilderness, anyway!"

"Quit your grouching!" snapped the second man. "Hot chance or not, you know only too damned well we couldn't afford to pass it up. I'll admit the chances of getting him are small, but that's so much the worse for us. There's nothing to do now, of course, except to keep on trying to find out way back to the club as soon as you feel like walking again; but there's no use talking about it being Lazarre that's got the wind up any more than the rest of us.

"There's something that seems to be breaking around here lately that you don't like any more than any of us and it looks as though this bird was in it. You haven't got to be told where we'll get off with W. P. if we don't play our hand right, have you?"

"No more than you, blast you!" raised the man with the injured leg. "Strike another match. All I'm saying is that you and I made a sweet pair of fools of ourselves in not making back for the club right from the start. I guess I can walk as fast as it will do us any good to go! What do you say, keep along the shore, now that we've found it, until we get to the river? Maybe by that time the fog will have lifted."

"All right," agreed the other shortly. "Come on!"

Colin's lips were a straight line. Again that night in Butch Conal's room! "W. P." That card he had found in the pocket of the Mask's tool! The Mask's "interests" on the north shore here, to which Reddy had referred, seemed to be rather definitely linked up now with Mr. Millionaire Waldrow Kennlston's club!

Footsteps crunched upon the sand and died away. Out of the fog, growing fainter in the distance, came an occasional curse—the man with the injured leg was evidently making heavy weather of it!

And then Germaine spoke.

"It would appear that you have located that friend of a friend of yours," she observed dryly.

COLIN did not answer at once. His brain was racing. Suppose on their return to Ca pa l'Orage Germaine reported what she had heard? It would be the obvious and natural thing for her to do. She had heard enough to know that the club was nothing but a nest of crooks, and that it existed for some criminal purpose.

A millionaire, and a salmon river on the isolated north shore! He paid a mental tribute to the Mask. The camouflage was magnificent. Yes—but Germaine. If she told? Eventually, of course, the police.

But the police were far away. Would the villagers themselves take action under the leadership of whatever local authority existed, or would some one, counting on being well paid for it, take a warning to the club? He did not care what happened finally to the club or what specifically was going on there—but there was Lazarre.

He did not want to see Lazarre in toils, or in flight. His own one chance was an alliance with Lazarre. As it was, the "members" were already alarmed at the presence of the man who had "got one look too many" and that was bad enough from his, Colin's, standpoint without adding anything more to it.

And then there was Germaine herself. From the moment it became known that she was the informant she would be in danger. And then, too, there was himself. He would inevitably be brought into it in court—evidence, testimony in due course. He could not testify under a false name.

But he could not ask her to remain silent without giving her a reason. There seemed to be only one way out: to tell her as much of the truth as his promise to Reddy would permit. This sailing under false colors with Germaine was becoming unendurable.

"Look here," he said abruptly. "My name's not Howard."

Given in Marriage

BY ADELE GARRISON

Avis admits her swoon was a sham, but insists that she did it to avoid the pain of congratulating the bride and groom at the altar.

WHAT would Avis Arlen do next? This was the query which beat insistently upon my brain, as Katherine finished stripping her pretense of a swoon from her in pungent, forceful phrases.

But even I, used to her effrontery, was surprised at her answer to Katherine's indictment.

"Of course I pretended to faint," she said, "and if you hadn't been a trained nurse no one would have found out."

"Don't be too sure of that, little one," Harry Underwood drawled. "Me and my frau, we're also used to fakes of all kinds. I was pretty sure you were pulling a fast one when you keeled over against me, but I always give a pretty gal the benefit of any doubt. But now the next question is 'Where do we go from here?'"

"Not quite the next," I put in softly. "Why did you do this, Avis?"

"Because you wanted me to," was her reply, and Harry Underwood chuckled at my astonished face. "You practically told me to."

"You will have to explain that, Avis," I told her coldly. "I surely never told you to pretend to swoon at the close of the wedding, and risk an unpleasant scene."

"But you told me I was not to go near Mary or Noel to congratulate them or anything, so I didn't know how else to manage it. I didn't want just to stay away without any excuse, it would look so awkward."

"So you chose the alternative of staging a swoon," Lillian said caustically. "It won't wash, that one. Come again! Or, rather, figure up something else. For, unfortunately for your little plan, no one in the living room, not even your mother, dreams that you have fainted."

She put her hands over her face with a swift, dramatic gesture.

"Oh, you are all against me!" she sobbed. "I want my mother."

"You mean, you are against everybody else," Lillian retorted coolly. "You're like that famous private who declared that 'everybody in the company is out of step but me.' And as for your wanting your mother, we can have her here in a jiffy. But first, you'd better fix up something plausible to tell her. You surely do not wish to alarm her by telling her falsely that you have just been brought out of a swoon. She's too good a mother to you to rate that anxiety."

Avis took her hands from her face and I saw, as I suspected that she was perfectly dry-eyed. But for a fleeting moment there was an abashed look upon her face.

"I—I did not think of that," she faltered. "She would worry at that. But what shall I tell her?"

"Just tell her that you have had a headache all the morning," Katherine said briskly, "and that you suddenly felt dizzy and came out here. I'll stay here with you while the rest go back to the living room. Mrs. Graham will tell her where you are, and you can ask your mother or anyone else to take your best wishes to the bride and groom. They're in such a daze of happiness they won't know who has wished them well, and who hasn't."

"Well, I don't thing No-el looked particularly happy." Avis said spitefully. "He looked to me more like a man going to his execution than to his wedding."

The Stars Say

For Thursday, Aug. 10.

The planetary rulership of this day must be interpreted as definitely adverse with sudden and probably violent or devastating forces at work to turn affairs into strange and difficult channels. The best-laid plans and projects may be swerved, with quite abrupt and unforseen visitation, into situations reversing the hope and wishes. Radical change seems imminent, with new and not entirely welcome associations and interests. Be extremely cautious with writings, documents, deals with mergers or secret bodies, and beware oily, conniving strangers or "cranks."

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of sudden, possibly radical, change, abruptly projected and precipitating unwelcome change, travel, or new affiliations or interests, both personal and business. There is danger of fraud, trickery and subtlety or intrigue through writings, documents and in crafty negotiations with secret bodies, mercers, rings or conspirators. Be alert to all.

A child born on this day will be keen, brilliant, inventive, original, but restless, changeable and difficult to make out.

Notable nativity: Carrie Jacobs Bond, composer "Perfect Day."

COUNTRY CLUB AND MAR-O-DEL PLAN JOINT LINKS MEET

TWO MARION CLUBS WILL SPONSOR FIRST FATHER-SON TOURNEY

Half of 36-Hole Affair To Be Played On Each Course.

Plans were announced today by Martin J. Kavanaugh, professional at the Marion Country club for the first tournament of its kind ever held in Marion. The tourney, a father and son affair, will be staged jointly by the Country club and Mar-O-Del club, half of it being played over each course. Chuck Ulrich, manager of the Mar-O-Del, is aiding in making arrangements for the meet, which, if successful will probably be turned into an annual affair.

Open To All

The tournament will be open to any father and son combination in Marion. An entrance fee of $1.00 will be charged and the winner will be given a trophy emblematic of the father and son championship. The first 18 holes will be played over the Mar-O-Del course and the final 18 over the Country club. The dates for the tournament have not been set but it will be held in the near future. It has not been decided if it will be a low ball or medal play meet. Those interested in taking part in the tourney are urged to get in touch with either Kavanaugh or Ulrich as soon as possible.

At the same time he announced the tournament, Kavanaugh announced the pairings for the first round of match play in the club championship at the Country club. The qualifying rounds were recently completed with Bob Owens turning the low medal score of 80 for the 18 holes.

The Pairings

First Flight: Bob Owens vs. Jack Jones; C. L. Gorton vs. Bob LaMarche, K. M. Bower vs. Don Howard; George Wright vs. Dr. W. A. Dennis; Dr. Taylor vs. Dan LaMarche, Dr. E. L. Brady vs. Bennett Bindley; T. R. Allen, bye and Dr. F. H. Mahla, bye.

Second Flight: John Dugan vs. A. Harris; Frank Wiedeman vs. Bob White; Dr. E. H. Morgan, bye; J. J. Slanser vs. Dr. F. V. Murphy; J. L. Grissinger vs. Dr. J. A. Dodd; Dr. C. J. Altmaier, bye; Dr. H. K. Mouser vs. George DeWolfe and Carter Patton vs. C. O. Brown.

CHILDREN'S HOME BEATS BLUE BIRDS

The Marion County Children's home softball team took a 15-4 game from the Marion Blue Birds yesterday on the Children's home diamond. The winners collected 16 hits. Batteries and score by innings:

Blue Birds .... 000 020 2—4 8 5
Children's Home 304 053 *—16 13 2

Blue Birds, Quigley and Gelbaugh; Children's Home, Kerr and Hood.

MARION A. C. TOPS COMPANY D. TEAM

Hammering out 18 hits, including a homer in the fifth by Bob Rintz with one man on, the Marion A. C. softball team grabbed a 13-9 decision from Company D yesterday on the Central Junior diamond. Two pitchers twirled the entire game despite the heavy batting assault.

Batteries and score by innings:

Company D ..... 200 040 3—9 14 1
Marion A. C. .... 106 222 *—13 18 2

Company D, Thompson and Walters; Marion A. C., Putnam and Blocksonm.

Erie Railroaders Take 3-1 Clash from C., D. & M.

Walters & Disbennett Lose To Shovel, 1-0; Indus League Race Grows Even More Complicated.

A pair of rookie ball players parading their talents under the banner of The Marion Star put another crimp in the Industrial league pennant aspirations of the Serv-U-Wel Grocers yesterday. Clarence Primmer and Bob Robbins are the two Primmer, twirling his second full game in as many days, set the Grocers down with three hits and Robbins socked a mighty home run in the fourth inning with two men on. A combination of the two gave the Publishers a 4-2 triumph.

While the Serv-U-Wel was being humbled, the Gasco club was missing a golden opportunity to take a strangle hold on first place by allowing itself to be held to a 5-5 tie by the Huber Manufacturing company. The Gasco took over first place but still has two games to play to one for the Grocers and has a half game lead.

In the other games, the Erie Traffic club, still an outside chance in the flag race, took a 3-1 decision from the C., D. & M. Electric Co and the Steam Shovel squeezed out a 1-0 victory over Walters & Disbennett.

Primmer in Form

Clarence Primmer was at his best as he set the Serv-U-Wel down with three hits, two singles and one triple. The young right hander struck out seven batters and had the Grocers swinging wildly most of the time. Francis Bacon drove in the two Serv-U-Wel runs when he tripled with two men on in the third. Primmer got himself into a bad hole in the second inning by putting men on second and third with none out. He bore down however and struck out Fred Vestal, Johnny Rife and Willie Jerew in a row to break up the rally.

Bob Robbins' home run smash came in the fourth frame with Don Atkinson and Primmer on the sacks. It was a terrific wallop, carrying far over Oberlander's head in left field. The blow, which gave The Star a 4-2 lead, took most of the fight out of the Grocers and made the going fairly easy the rest of the way for the winners.

Bennie Crabtree took care of the twirling duties for the Huber as the East side team held the Gasco to a 5-5 deadlock. Crabtree yielded five hits to the league leaders and except for some loose fielding on the part of his mates would have racked up a triumph. Shorty Richards started on the hill for the Gasco but ran into all kinds of difficulty and was derricked in favor of Dale Schwaderer when the Huber got some ambitious ideas and commenced to clout the ball with increasing regularity. Schwaderer stopped the rally but the best the Gasco could salvage was a tie score. Which makes the Industrial league race just that much more complicated.

Walk Costs Game

Woody Walters walked Cliff Ward, the first man to face him, as the Steam Shovel met Walters & Disbennett and as a result the latter team dropped a 1-0 game. Ward scored a few minutes later with the only run of the game. After that shaky start, Walters set the Shovel down with two hits. Zig Snyder, pitching in good form for the Shovel, held the enemy scoreless and that one run was enough to win. Walters allowed only two hits and Snyder was almost as stingy, giving up three.

The Erie Traffic club found the suddenly awakened C., D. & M. Electricians a tough proposition but finally managed to make four hits good for three runs a 3-1 victory. The Electricians pounded out 10 hits off Don Shoemaker but could bunch them at any time and were able to score but one run. The losers were guilty of some poor base running and this cost them several scoring chances.

Batteries and score by innings:

C., D. & M. .... 000 000 001—1 10 1
Erie ..... 201 000 *—3 4 0

Gehrig Nearing Playing Record of 1,307 Games

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 10—When Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee first baseman, establishes a new major league record for playing in consecutive games, as he is scheduled to do—barring injuries and postponements — against the St. Louis Browns here next Tuesday, the present record-holder is expected to witness the performance.

Everett Scott, former Red Sox and Yankee infielder, who starred in 1,307 straight games before creeping age forced him out, has been invited by the Browns' management to attend the game.

Scott, who began his string back in 1917 and retired May 6, 1925, just a month before Gehrig started to work, now operates a bowling establishment at Fort Wayne, Ind.

OLIN DUTRA FACES JOHNNY FARRELL IN PRO GOLF TOURNEY

Brilliant Field Survives First Round of Milwaukee Links Meet.

By The Associated Press

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10 — Hemmed in by a noted par shelling field and confronted by Johnny Farrell in his second round battle, Olin Dutra needed all his tremendous strength, stamina and shot making wizardry today to keep his national professional golf championship.

Lined up against the big senior from the Pacific coast, survivors of two days of record smashing cannonading in which scores in the sixties were almost as numerous as alibis, was the fastest field that ever stuck in the championship drive through the first round. Still in the fight were such celebrities as Gene Sarazen, Tom Creavy, Paul Runyan, Johnny Farrell, Ed Dudley, Johnny Revolta, Johnny Golden, Harry Cooper, Al Espinosa, Bobby Cruikshank, and Willie Goggin of Selada Beach, Calif., a newcomer, who eliminated Leo Diegel yesterday.

Plenty of Action

Stirring matches with plenty of action were in prospect today as play opened for quarter final berths in the 36-hole struggles. Sarazen, who dazzled the galleries yesterday, by burning up the front nine in the afternoon with a course record tying 31, four under par, faced Cooper, one of the most dangerous foemen in golf. Runyan, three under par in the first round over 31 holes, tackled Johnny Revolta of Menominee, Mich.; Golden battled Cruikshank, Creavy met Walsh, and Dutra matched shots against Farrell, 1928 National open champion, in the outstanding battles of the round.

Dutra was in the lower bracket, which rated as the hardest of the two by far. Bracketed with him were Sarazen, Cooper, Cruickshank, Dudley, Farrell, Clark and Golden.

Farrell in Comeback

Farrell won the crowd yesterday with a comeback in the only match that reached the thirty-sixth green. Five down at one time, Johnny marched back with great golf, negotiated a near dead stymie on the thirty-fifth to take the lead and halved the last hole to win.

Diegel lost the heart breaker. Although he was one under par, he fell four down at noon and lost as Goggin, a powerful hitter, ended the match with two birdies.

Revolta turned in the widest margin, crushing Alex Gerlak of Catskill, N. Y., 12 and 11.

HOMER WINS TILT FOR LEE STREET, 4-1

Wallace Conkle drove out a home run for Lee Street Intermediates yesterday and gave his team a 4-1 victory over the United Brethren. Two men were on bases at the time.

Batteries and score by innings:

AFTER BIG STAKE

H. M. "Doc" Parshall, of Urbana, O., a familiar figure in Marion at the annual Little Grand circuit race meets, will be shooting for bigger stakes on Aug. 16 when he drives in the $50,000 Hambletonian race at Goshen, N. Y. Parshall, the leading money winning reinsman for the last several years, has already captured 69 victories this year. The trotting classic at Goshen is the biggest event of its kind in the harness racing world. (Photo by International News).

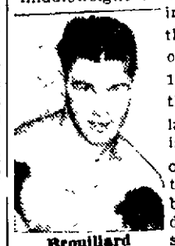
Southpaw Fighter Gains Recognition as New York Middleweight Champ.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Larruping Lou Brouillard, the French Canadian fighter from Worcester, Mass., has laid claim to a share of the widely distributed middleweight title recognition in a most decisive fashion and at the same time put in a bid for a place on the list of famous left handed battlers.

Brouillard stripped Ben Jeby of his recognition by the New York state athletic commission as middleweight champion by knocking him out in the seventh round of a scheduled 15 round bout at the Polo grounds last night. And in doing it he not only confounded the New Yorker by his unorthodox southpaw style, but he outboxed, outfought and out-thought him.



Brouillard

The chunky New Englander fought a cool, heady battle, ripping in only when he could make his blows hurt, and finally laid his opponent low with one terrific left hand wallop in the seventh.

Brouillard weighed 185½, a half pound less than his opponent, last night, but he has been growing so fast in the last couple of years that he is expected to move up into the light heavyweight division after a few more fights.

NATS STRETCH LEAD TO THREE GAMES BY BEATING YANKS AGAIN

Cubs and Pirates Open Series for Second Place in National.

By The Associated Press

A great comeback by the Washington Senators had ended their 'crucial' series with the New York Yankees all square today and the fans began to turn their attention to the National league, where the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were about to open a duel for second place which might carry one or the other right up behind the pace setting New York Giants.

The Senators and Monte Weaver turned back the Yanks 4 to 1 in their final clash yesterday to regain the rest of the ground they lost in Monday's doubleheader, and give them a three-game lead.

Weaver, who has been out of action most of the season with a sore arm, let the Yanks down with seven safeties, pitching no hit ball from the fourth until Babe Ruth singled in the ninth.

The Cubs set the stage for their struggle with the second place Pittsburgh club by pasting their old teammate, Burleigh Grimes, in the first inning and defeating the Cardinals, 10 to 7. The victory left them only a half game behind the Pirates and 3½ behind New York as both clubs were idle. They open a three game series at Pittsburgh today.

The Braves took advantage of the Cards' defeat to move into fourth place with a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

The Red Sox, who have made quite a habit of beating the Philadelphia Athletics lately did it again by an 8-4 count as Lefty Lloyd Brown played a whole ball game by himself. He not only pitched the full distance but smacked a homer and two singles.

Only two games were scheduled in each league.

CITY BOARD THROWS OUT TWO PROTESTS

Commission Orders Industrial and Commercial League Game To Stand.

Two protests were thrown out last night as the city softball commission held its regular monthly meeting at the Y. M. C. A. The K. of P. protest of a recent defeat by the Kappas and a Walters & Disbennett protest of defeat by the Gasco club were the two thrown out.

The commission also voted to contribute $25 to the city playground work under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A.

No other business of importance was transacted. The starting date for the Little World series was not named but it was indicated that it would start on Monday, Aug. 21, if the postponed games and playoffs can be completed next week.

Red Birds Cop Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—If yesterday's exhibition was a good sample, Columbus probably would not have much trouble with Minneapolis, should they meet in the American Association playoff.

The Red Birds won the first game of a doubleheader from the Millers 10 to 2, hammering out eight runs in the second inning, and came right back, behind Bud Teachout's five-hit pitching for a 9 to 0 shutout. Lefty Heise gave Minneapolis only four hits in the opener, while his mates made 13 off Walt Hilcher and Hi Vandenburg. In the second game George Murray went all the way for the Millers and was thumped for 15 blows.

Louisville outpointed Kansas City, 3 to 2, in the first game of their doubleheader, and lost the second, 4 to 1, under protest. The nightcap was called because of rain, but only after umpire Devormer had called Bob Van Camp out, after first calling his attempted bunt a foul. Van Camp stopped running when the official made his first decision, but the ball jumped fair and Devormer declared him out. Manager Bruno Betzel immediately filed a protest to President Thomas Jefferson Hickey.

HELEN REFUSES TO ENDANGER STATUS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Just to make sure that she will not violate the amateur code of tennis, Helen Jacobs will not make her scheduled appearance at a New York department store today to autograph copies of her book on tennis.

An advertisement of such an appearance, identifying her as a "famous tennis champion" appeared in early editions of yesterday's afternoon papers and caused quite a flurry of excitement coming as it did close behind the announcement of an investigation into the amateur status of Ellsworth Vines, Jr.

Answers To Questions on Wheat Plan

This is the first of three articles putting in question and answer form details of the voluntary domestic allotment plan now being put into effect for wheat.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—Who is to put the plan into operation?

Wheat farmers through voluntary contracts with the secretary of agriculture.

How is the contract made?

The producer first signs an application agreeing to contract to reduce his wheat acreage for the 1934 and 1935 crop years in consideration of adjustment payments. When this application is accepted by the allotment committee of his county wheat production control association, he is offered a contract for his signature which, when accepted by the secretary of agriculture, becomes binding on both parties.

What is the allotment committee?

Three members of the board of directors of the county wheat production control association. The latter includes farmers signing applications with the aid of the county agricultural agent and special representatives designated where there are no agents.

Who can join in the plan?

All producers who have seeded land to wheat during each or any of the years, 1930, 1931 and 1932.

* * *

Can a contract be signed covering a farm on which wheat has not been grown or on which no wheat is to be grown in 1934 and 1935?

No.

What does the contract require the producer to do?

To reduce his wheat acreage for the 1934 and 1935 crop years below the average for 1928-1932 by not to exceed 20 per cent. The amount of the 1934 reduction is to be announced Aug. 24, that for 1935 a year hence.

*Based on the latest retail registration figures from R. L. Polk & Company (all states for five full months). Since January first Chevrolet has sold in excess of 370,000 passenger cars and trucks.

People have come to expect Chevrolet to lead the world in automobile sales. But this year Chevrolet has done even more than that. According to the latest available figures, Chevrolet alone has sold almost as many cars this year as all the rest of the low-price field combined!

When a car looms above its field like that, there can't be any argument about it. It must be an all-round better buy. And that's exactly what Chevrolet offers you. Fisher bodies, with the new ventilation system and the strongest and quietest body construction of the day—solid steel over a sturdy hardwood frame.* A valve-in-head six engine, unapproached for economy . . . Cushion-Balanced to blot out vibration . . . full of snap and vigor—altogether the most efficient engine in the low-price field.

Then there's Syncro-Mesh with Silent Second, the Starterator, Simplified Free Wheeling, the Octane Selector, long, parallel-mounted springs—more advancements than we have space to describe. And Chevrolet prices are as low as $445. Don't guess—buy from the leader. Get a car that has been proved sound and dependable by more owners than any other automobile you can buy.

STOCKS LOSE EARLY GAINS

Shares Hesitate After Early Display of Buoyancy and Slide Backward

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug 10 Stocks hesitated somewhat today after an early display of buoyancy and afternoon gains of 2 to 3 or more points were either shaded substantially or replaced with small losses

Trading was quiet from the morning bell but the market turned dowdle as prices began to sag Profit taking was fairly well absorbed The slowdown followed publication of the U S Steel Corporation's backlog which disclosed a July decrease somewhat larger than expected Grains again advanced both in Chicago and Winnipeg and cotton was fairly steady The dollar eased a bit in foreign exchange dealings Bonds were moderately irregular

The metal and farm shares were given a run up at one time but they later receded with other groups Gains of fractions to around a point however were held by Western Union, Deere American Commercial Alcohol Case Baltimore & Ohio Du Pont West inghouse Santa Fe and N Y Central Losers of similar amounts included American Telephone National Distillers United Aircraft Public Service of New Jersey North American General Motors U S Industrial Alcohol U S Steel Bethlehem Steel U S Smelting Goodyear and Allied Chemical

The decrease of 86 346 tons in U S Steel's unfilled orders was attributed in some quarters to pressing shipments to consumers during the month rather than to a falling off of business In the week ended yesterday bank clearings also showed a decline with the total at the lowest since the middle of May

Banking circles while still having their fingers crossed in the matter of inflationary possibilities, understand that the recent Hyde Park conferences were largely concerned with refunding problems which are now confronting the administration

Easy money conditions are being viewed quite cheerfully in the financial district Time money rates recently have worked slightly lower The seasonal exception however is that rates may begin to harden by Labor day

GRAIN PRICES ADVANCE AGAIN

Chicago Values Mount For Third Successive Day; Wheat Leads Gain.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug 10—For the third successive day, grain values showed an advancing trend today, with wheat registering nearly 6 cents rise, compared with Tuesday's bottom figures.

Increased attention was given to reports of the Washington administration's desire to see prices restored to the level which prevailed in 1924 26, according to official returns the average 1926 price received by the farmer for wheat was $1 24 a bushel corn 74 cents, and oats 40¾ cents

A pause in demand pending issuance of the government crop report led to reactions in the late dealings and wheat closed easy at the time at yesterday's finish to ⅝ higher, corn unchanged to ⅛ up, oats ⅛@¼ advanced, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to a rise of 17 cents

COSTLY ERROR

Police Capture Pair but Theft Report Proves False.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 10 — An expensive 20-mile drive, a shattered windshield and the detention of two innocent persons were the results of a false report of money stolen from a Kenton filling station attendant Wednesday. City police overtook the two persons, who had procured gasoline at the service station, in Dunkirk where they were held up by railroad crossing barriers. Unable to stop, the police car smashed into the gate. Upon return of the couple to Kenton the filling station attendant said he later had found the money on the floor where he had dropped it in making change for the motorists.

EMPLOYMENT OFFICE OPENED

Fred A. Zoller in Charge of New Federal Service at Bucyrus.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 10—The new federal employment office was opened in the courthouse here today with Fred A. Zoller of Bucyrus serving as manager.

The office was set up by H. R. [illegible] federal supervisor, who was here in the county since Tuesday arranging for an organization to handle the work.

Those chosen to have charge of the work are A. T. Henderson and Zoller of Bucyrus, Peter C. Frye of Crestline, Nelson Geiger of Chatfield county commissioner, and George Flick and Robert Plack of Galion.

The office will be used by both jobless and employers as a central bureau. Departing from local and state employment methods, men asking for work will be chosen without question or regard as to the number in their family or as to the amount of real estate owned by them.

Another move to provide employment will be launched Saturday when the county commissioners meet with a newly organized group of unemployed with a view of outlining public work projects now before the county in an effort to provide some of the men with work for the raminder of the year.

The new organization, as yet unnamed, is headed by C. J. Brinkman. Brinkman reports that he has already arranged for some of his men to be given work on the Lincoln highway project near Leesville, where a cut-off is being made to eliminate curves. Concrete work on that project will be started this week.

Ten Choruses Asked to Marion Music Festival

Canto Club To Sponsor First Song Contest of Kind Ever Held in This Section.

Ten choruses, numbering approximately 500 members, have been invited to Marion to take part in a central Ohio fall music festival of male singing organizations on Wednesday night, Oct. 11 at the Chautauqua pavilion.

The Canto club of Marion is sponsoring the festival, which will be the first of its kind ever held in this section of the state. Two awards, totaling $40, will be made. The winning chorus will receive $25, and the chorus winning second place will receive $15.

The choruses invited, and the directors, follow: First United Brethren church of Marion, B. K. Hill; Hilltop Business Men's chorus of Columbus, W. H. Jones; New London chorus, R. C. Johnson; Shelby chorus, M. C. Davis; Philharmonic chorus of Ashland, Paul Bishop; Elks chorus of Galion, Mary Bland; Fostoria chorus, L. G. Jones; Hardin County chorus of Kenton, Owen Roberts; Mt. Vernon chorus, H. O. Wintermute; Prospect chorus, Charles Collmer.

Mark Evans, supervisor of music in the Lima schools and one of the best known music men in northern Ohio, will preside as adjudicator. Mr. Evans is the father of T. R. Evans, supervisor of Marion public school music.

Added interest will be given the festival in a mass male chorus of all competing groups. The mass chorus will sing four selections at the conclusion of the contest proper, under the direction of Mark Evans.

No size limit has been placed on the choruses, H. L. Albrecht, chairman of arrangements, said this morning.

Each chorus will be required to sing three selections, one of its own choosing, and the two contest numbers, "Song of the Western Men," Protheroe, and "The Broken Melody," Sibelius.

The mass chorus which will include the Canto chorus under Hamer Mitchell, will sing the two contest numbers and "The Long Day Closes," A. Sullivan and "Prayer of Thanksgiving," a folk tune arranged by E. Kremser.

The Canto club board will meet tonight at 7:30 at the club rooms to complete plans for the festival.

STUDENTS OF OLD SCHOOL IN REUNION

By The Associated Press

LEBANON, O., Aug. 10—Former students of old-time National Normal university here gathered today for a reunion to continue through the week-end. They met on grounds of the old university, reopened this year as Arthur Holbrook college.

Cordell Hull, secretary of state; Joseph H. Johnson, New York city's public works commissioner; Wynn Staley, New York state treasurer; Addison Southard, ambassador to Abyssinia; former Attorney-General Cammack of Kentucky; and former Governor Myers Y. Cooper of Ohio, were students at the old school.

16 NAMES DRAWN FOR SCHAAF TRIAL

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 10 - A special venire of 16 was drawn by Morrow county jury commissioners yesterday from which 12 will be selected to sit in the suit of Edna Gay and Wesley E. Schaaf against the state highway department Monday. The plaintiffs claim that the amount of compensation and damages awarded them for the land condemned in the improvement of Route 41 near Schaafs Corners three years ago was not sufficient.

DIVIDEND ORDERED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Co. today ordered the usual quarterly dividend of $1.50 on the common stock, payable Oct. 2, to stock of record Sept. 1. Dividends at this rate have been paid regularly since July 1, 1932, when the annual basis was reduced from $10 to $6.

Galion Police Vet On Job As Night Clerk 20 Years

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 10—Rounding out 20 years as night clerk at the desk of the local police station is the record of William H. Nichols, 74.

Mr. Nichols began his work on Aug. 14 1913 under the regime of the present Mayor H. H. Hartmann. Mr. Nichols recalls that in the last 20 years he has served under only one Republican mayor, Jay Nichols. The only other change in mayors during this time was the term of F. W. Biehl, a Democrat, who was elected in a year when Mayor Hartmann did not run.

Mr. Nichols was born in this city, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. W. Nichols. Before he became night man at the police station he had been an engineer on the Big Four railroad. He was forced to give up his work in 1891 on account of his health. He had been promoted to engineer on Christmas day of 1882. He later served as night clerk at the Central hotel and the old Phoenix hotel here.

Reminiscences of events at the local police station include the time that a man whose place of business had been raided, died from a heart attack in a chair in the station lobby while he was waiting to be questioned. Mr. Nichols stated that several men died in the station from alcoholism, and one man died after he drank a vial of carbolic acid in one of the cells.

In these 20 years Mr. Nich[illegible] has worked steadily with the exception of a few days when he was [illegible]
